The "Track 2 generator" is a very good virtual instrument for modern deep house, disco and urban music producers. It's a powerful synthesizer with a lot of features that it can handle with no problems at all. The sound quality is really great and it sounds similar to the original oscillators from the Akai VXS-Pro. In addition, these oscillators are also based on polyphonic waveforms. This means that they can generate 16 voices simultaneously from one track 2 generator v 5. 6 230. And, in my opinion, this it's one of the best features in the Korg T2 synthesizer. It will help you create lush dance tracks with lots of different sounds and melodies. For instance, you can mix your voice with other instruments like guitars or pianos and mix them into one track. And, thanks to the polyphonic waveforms, you can play together all these instruments at the same time without any problems. This is another advantage of the T2 synthesizer over its competitors; for example - Akai VXS-Pro doesn't have this feature (only 6 voices). And, with all that we can say that Korg T2 is a real monster for the house and disco production and, believe me, it's worth its money. A lot of reviews and tests of this software virtual instrument were made by many different users from all over the world. And most of them praised the high quality sound and powerful features of this tool. These reviews can be very useful for those who still haven't decided to buy it. Take a look at reviews for this synthesizer: Here you can read reviews from some professional producers. They will tell you everything about Track 2 generator and how it really works in the real world. And, after reading these reviews and tests of Track 2 generator, you can easily understand that if you just start producing with this software virtual instrument, then your tracks will be very different than from the other house or disco producers. And, if you want to become a professional house or disco music producer, then you should use T2. In addition, this software synthesizer is not only perfect for the hi-tech house and disco music producers but also for those who make chill out music at home. Because, the author of this tool used Korg's most advanced synthesis algorithm called "Area Scan". With this algorithm, you can easily make chill out tracks with the absolutely real sound. And this is not possible without Track 2 generator. And, here are some offers that you can use when buying Track 2 generator:

Track 2 generator is a very high-quality software synthesizer for modern deep house music producers. Personally, I'm using it for 10 years now and my success in creating dance tracks is really great. Because of all that I can say that Track 2 generator will help you to create fabulous deep house or disco tracks.
